

RUBBER INDUSTRY

Brenntag brings to the North American Rubber Industry, a broad line of chemical products as well as alliances with internationally known market leading suppliers. We are well positioned to provide customers with a diverse array of quality products and services at competitive prices. In addition, we have an unparalleled ability to support our multinational customers through Brenntag's global service capabilities.

Quality is a priority with Brenntag. We have a corporate commitment to the National Association of Chemical Distributor's Responsible Distribution Process®. We take great pride in the fact that we were the first chemical distribution company in North America to achieve both ISO 9000 and ISO 14001 certification.

With distribution and sales locations throughout the United States, Canada and Europe, as well as Central and South America, we are capable of meeting the current and future needs of our customers... from commodity to specialty products, in a diverse range of packaging containers and sizes. Our product portfolio includes an extensive list of chemicals being used in rubber compounding and processing applications throughout the mill.

Our exclusive, high surface area zinc oxides offer compounders the advantage of improved heat age stability and improved compression set, while lowering total heavy metals and zinc usage. Just one example of how our product line and applications expertise can provide customers with a higher performing compound at lower total cost.

The following is a list
of our major product lines:

ANTIOXIDANTS

BLOWING AGENTS

LUBRICANTS
